THE GRADUATE

POINT OF

One hundred seven students passed the point of no return as they crossed the threshold to become graduates on 15 December 1995 at the 23rd winter commencement. Commencement speaker Dr. John Griffin, superintendent of the Cumberland County schools, asked members of the winter class to become true "laborers" by sharing with and helping those in need. Dr. Griffin challenged each graduating senior to take part in the political process, to become a volunteer, and "to reach out and show that you care for others." He said Americans need to change their mode of thinking from "me" to "we" and unite to restore the virtues of caring, integrity, and responsible citizenship.

President Hendricks presented the Sam Edwards Award to Mrs. Linda Johnson Hood of Harrells, N.C., as the outstanding Evening College graduate of 1995. Overall, 31 members of the winter class graduated with honors.

Konde Joe Mabiala presented the flag of Zaire and Simone Young presented the flag of The Barbados, continuing the tradition begun in 1985 of international students presenting the flags of their native countries to President Hendricks.

FROM HERE

On May 12, 1996, one hundred sixty-eight graduates ended their journey as undergraduates and began their trek into the unknown. Commencement speaker Don Baer, White House Communications Director and Fayetteville native, reminded the graduates that, "You can't have freedom without responsibility. Let the penny be your guide. Remember the word 'liberty' from the front and the words 'e pluribus unum' (out of many, one) from the back. We must honor the debt we've received from our founding fathers. If we do, we will create an 'Age of Possibility' and a better tomorrow for our children."

Laurie A. Davison, a biology major from Fayetteville, received the L. Stacy Weaver Award as the senior who best exemplified academic excellence, spiritual development, leadership, and service. In addition, forty-five members of the class graduated honors.

Three graduates, Malcolm J. Powell of Cornwall (England), Ana Rodriguez of Spain, and Derek Tang of Malaysia, presented the college with the flags of their native countries. Eight Army ROTC graduates took the oath of office and were commissioned second lieutenants: Steven D. Baas, Anthony E. Daniels, William C. Davis, Mikel S. Hubbard, Shane F. Liptak, Helmut E. Riepl, and Thomas A. Yaroch.

The 1995 Monarchs equaled their 5-5 record from 1994 against its most competitive schedule in school history. This team defeated two schools for the first time: Newport News Apprentice and Maryville. They also had a key win against Division IAA Davidson at its homecoming. After a slow start, the Monarchs won three straight games and established a winning streak of six straight home games.

The offense was led by an experienced line of David Abernathy, Rob Walker and A.J. MacPherson. Fullback Keljin Adams again was the focal point with his outstanding blocking. Tight End Derek George extended his career reception record and Jesse Iversen captured the receiving yardage career record. DeCarlos West was named the offensive MVP for the second straight year after setting the career rushing record in only two seasons. Brian Turner was the Offensive Rookie-of-the-Year, leading the Monarchs to a 16-14 upset victory over Davidson.

The defense was outstanding in 1995. They allowed the fewest number of points scored against them in the history of the school and took the ball away from its opponents 24 times. Joe Courcelle and Eric Abendschein led the defensive front and Kenneth Ashley was named Defensive Rookie-of-the-Year. MVP on defense was Steve Burton, who broke the career tackling record. Jerome Crews and Trafer Monroe were outstanding in the secondary.

The kicking game was solid with the skills of Tony Bugeja, who also owns every kicking record at Methodist. Long-snapper Todd Irby was named the Rookie-of-the-Year on special teams.

Right: A dreary day and rain can't stop the Monarchs from making a touchdown!

Above Middle: Practicing for Nationals is a big part of being a cheerleader, it requires a lot of skill and dedication.

Cheer

The Methodist Cheerleaders faced many changes over the course of the year. The most dramatic changes were a new coach and the addition of an all-female squad. The varsity co-ed squad worked long hours to submit a video tape to the Universal Cheerleading Association. As a result of the combined team's determination, they received a paid trip to the National Championships in Orlando, Florida. Sharon Smyzuk and John Cooper competed in the partner stunt national competition, which was a first for Methodist College. The Sherry Sellars Award is given in honor of a Methodist College Cheerleader who was killed in an automobile accident. John Cooper's hard work and dedication to the team earned him this award. The Most Improved award was given to freshman Peter Doyle whose hard work has developed him in all areas of cheerleading.

"LADY

BUGS"

1995 NCAA Division III Runners-up

To cap the 1995 season, first-year Coach Phil Stephenson's Lady Monarchs went where no Methodist women's soccer team had gone before — the NCAA-III championship game. The 18-4 Lady Monarchs ended their run with a 3-0 loss to California-San Diego in Pomona, N.J., Nov. 12.

National runner-up honors and 18 victories mark the best finish by a Lady Monarch soccer squad. Along the way, Methodist collected its ninth DIAC title, eighth NCAA-III national tournament berth and fourth South Regional crown. This year's Final Four visit, Methodist's first in five years and fourth in eight, featured the Lady Monarchs' first-ever national semifinal victory. The 2-0 win over host Richard Stockton also marked the first Final Four contest the Lady Monarchs scored in. Richard Stockton outshot the Lady Monarchs 16-8, but were unable to beat junior goalkeeper Jennifer Maurer and the stingy Methodist defense anchored by senior Ruth Keegan, senior Fiona Grogan and sophomore Tiffany Sprouse. Four Lady Monarchs — Maurer, Keegan, senior Michele Brown, and junior Alvy Styles — were named to the NCAA-III Final Four all-tournament team.

Methodist's all-time most successful men's soccer team fell one goal short of a perfect dream season November 19, slipping 2-1 to host Williams (MA) in the NCAA-III National Championship game. Despite outshining the second-ranked Ephs in shots (14-12) and corner kicks (7-3), the top-ranked Monarchs were outdone on the scoreboard. Even with the loss, the 21-1 Monarchs ended the season with their best finish in the program's history. Conquests included a seventh consecutive DIAC title, a sixth-straight national tournament appearance, a second South Regional championship, and a first-ever Final Four berth. Methodist was also ranked number one in the nation all eight weeks of the regular season.

Dawson's destroyers had crushed sixth-ranked Chapman (CA) 3-0 in the semifinals the previous day, Nov. 18. Sophomore Kemal Kansu, senior Michael Scobee and freshman Kari Reynisson tailed the three goals while sophomore Erik Lawton recorded the first and third assists. Sophomore Bjorgvin Fridriksson had the other assist. The victory marked senior goalie Justin Terranova's 37th career shutout, a program record.

Methodist's most successful men's soccer squad placed eight members on the All-DIAC team; including Freshman of the Year (Reynisson) and also Conference Player of the Year (Hoey) for the third consecutive year. Methodist also had five players on the Division III All-South Team and two All-Americans.

Four returning players and four first-year players comprised the volleyball team roster during the fall. The team made a respectable showing at the Gallaudet Tournament and at the Methodist College Invitational. The Dixie Conference finish was seventh place for both the regular season and the conference tourney. The Coach's Award was presented by the coach to the player who best personifies qualities athletically, personally and emotionally which define the Methodist College Volleyball Program. Stephanie Greene's dedication, dependability and perseverance provided guidance for teammates through a difficult year, earning her the Coach's Award.

Year-End Record: 7-6

Numerous upperclassmen and key freshmen joined in on the Monarch men's cross country team to cash in on the first winning season since 1991. The season started on a winning note as the team won its own Methodist College Invitational. The team finished the season with a record of 19-18 and finished 2nd and 5th in the DIAC and Mason-Dixon Conference, respectively. The team was led by freshman Frank Curiel who claimed first team All-Conference DIAC and Mason-Dixon honors as well as a sixth-place finish at the South/Southeast Regional Championships that earned him All-Region honors. Curiel was also named Most Valuable Runner for the season. Others who garnered honors at the end of the season were: Tim McCrae, First Team All-Conference DIAC and Mason-Dixon; and Augustus Bryant, Second Team All-DIAC.

Even with the return of only three of last years runners, the women's Cross Country team made a significant jump in Dixie Conference standings and in their season. The ladies posted a 7-6 record on the year and placed fourth in the DIAC Championships. The women were led by sophomore Karen Auer who won the first three meets of the year and went on to post a fifth place finish in the Dixie Conference. Auer was also named Most Valuable Runner for the season. Senior Christi Ferguson was also named to the Second Team All-DIAC.

"THE NET"

The women's tennis team measured up to a whole new standard. They played a more extensive schedule with more competitive teams. The Monarchs finished second in the DIAC Tournament and compiled a record of 7 wins and 10 losses and earned a South Regional Team Ranking of #11.

Freshman Ivana Janciarova led the team at #1 singles, punishing her opponents with her powerful forehand. Isabel Barcelo used a strong all-court game and deceiving underhand serve to go 5-1 in conference play. Captain Christy Hopper led by example, making an impressive showing at the Rolex Tournament. Jackie Ruffing earned All-Conference honors at the #4 singles position. Seniors Darlene Dykas, Kristin Klarenbeek and Karla Oates also proved to be fierce competitors.

Barcelo and Janciarova received All-Conference honors at #1 doubles and compiled a record of 11 wins and 10 losses. The second team All-Conference selections were Ivana Janciarova, Christy Hopper and Kristin Klarenbeek.

Dykas was awarded the Most Valuable Player award which represented her contributions to the team's success. Oates was the recipient of the Coach's Award honoring her perseverance in all academic and athletic areas.

“RAPID FIRE”

This year's men's tennis team put together one of the strongest seasons since the 1991 team. With five returning players and five freshmen, the Monarchs finished the regular season with a 4-1 record in the Dixie Conference and a 14-3 overall slate.

The team upset two of the nation's top 25 teams by beating Lynchburg College 8-1 and Hampden Sydney College 5-4. The Monarchs finished second in the DIAC Tournament behind Averett College, the South Region second-ranked team. Methodist had players in seven of the nine championship matches.

The highlight of the year was being invited to the NCAA Division III Team Championships. This was the first NCAA appearance for the team, where they faced top-seeded Washington College (Md.) in the South Regional at Trinity University in San Antonio, Texas. The team lost 7-0 to the Sho'men, who were ranked #2 in the nation.

Brian Clary

The following players were named All-DIAC: In singles competition — Scott Jenkin, Telly Sellars, Alex Fraser, Brian Clary and Jeremy Plumley. In doubles competition — Jenkin &

George Billington and Sellars & Fraser. George Billington was also named Academic All-Conference.

The team also tallied some impressive individual records. In singles play, Billington was 16-5, Jenkin 12-9, Sellars 12-9, Fraser 15-7, Clary 16-3, and Plumley 13-3. In doubles play, Jenkin & Billington were 14-2, Sellars & Fraser 13-3 and Clary & Bennett 12-3.

The Monarchs ended the year ranked eighth in the South Region while Jenkin was ranked 23rd and the doubles team of Jenkin & Billington was ranked sixth.

Billington was named the team's Most Valuable Player while senior captain Clary was honored with the Coach's Award.

"Speed"

With the women's track and field team possessing more experience than in recent years, the Lady Monarchs entered 1996 hoping to improve their performance in the conference. Throughout a weather-shortened indoor season, the squad became progressively stronger. Methodist came away with a sixth-place finish in the Mason-Dixon Indoor Championships, garnering five All-Conference performances along the way. With the start of the outdoor season, Methodist found itself ranked nationally in the NCAA-III power rankings. The Lady Monarchs finished 10th at the Emory Invitational and placed third at The Carolinas Invitational in Pembroke, N.C. With first-place finishes in the 200 and the 400 meters, Stacy Lester was named MVP for the running events. Methodist completed the season with a fifth-place finish at the Conference Outdoor Championships and brought home 11 all-conference awards. Lester was voted MVP by her teammates for an outstanding season. The team was ranked 21st in the national polls late in the season.

“The Running Man”

The men's track team entered the season with very high expectations, returning four national qualifiers from a year ago.

With the indoor season being cut short due to weather, the team found itself going into the indoor conference meet not quite where it wanted to be. With determined efforts from all team members, the Monarchs came away with a third place team finish and 24 All-Conference performances. The Monarchs finished the indoor regular season ranked 12th in the nation.

Hamilton Cuthrell was the lone entrant for the national indoor meet, qualifying in the 55 meters. He had an outstanding weekend, coming away with a second-place finish, as well as placing 16th in the team standings.

Methodist rolled into the outdoor season, finishing third at the Emory Invitational that boasted 10 top 20 teams. The Monarchs finished second at The Carolinas Invitational, where Cuthrell was named meet running events MVP, after winning the 100- and 200-meter dashes. The outdoor conference meet saw Methodist hanging near the top of the pack throughout, but eventually finishing third. The Monarchs came away with seven individual champions and 28 All-Conference performances. Bjorgvin Fridriksson swept the 5,000 meters, 10,000 meters and steeple chase on his way to being named the conference's running events MVP.

The Monarchs finished the regular season ranked 10th nationally. The 400-meter relay team (Wilbur Christy, Joe Clark, DeCarlos West and Cuthrell) ran to third place at the outdoor national meet as Methodist finished 32nd in the team standings.

The team would also like to wish the only senior, Brett “Chick” Ciancanelli, the best of luck in the future. Thanks for the memories, Brett.

"The Natural"

The Methodist College baseball team completed its banner 1996 season with a sixth appearance in the NCAA-III College World Series in Salem, VA, May 23-29. The Monarchs went 1-2 in the tournament to finish fifth in the nation.

The Monarchs won their opening round contest, 8-7, over Rensselaer before falling to Wisconsin-Oshkosh 11-5 and Bridgewater State 10-4. Tony Palombizio was chosen to the All-World Series Team.

Despite having only two senior starters, Methodist was ranked first nationally during the first six weeks of the regular season and second the four weeks prior to the World Series.

Even with the youth factor (six of the nine starters regularly freshmen or sophomores), Coach Tom Austin's 1996 diamond dwellers amassed an impressive 35-9 record while winning the DIAC regular season and tournament titles. The Monarchs finished 11-1 in conference play and 4-0 in the league tournament. Methodist went 3-0 while hosting and winning its second-straight NCAA-III South Regional Tournament.

First Team All-American Tim Adkins and DIAC Rookie of the Year Bill Chapman were named First Team All-Conference. Chris Culbreth, Steve Moody and Starsky Norman were Second Team All-DIAC picks.

Adkins and Chapman were also First Team All-South Region selections. Mike Hughes was an honorable mention all-region honoree.

Austin was named the DIAC Coach of the Year for the sixth time.

The Methodist College Music Department has ALWAYS been outstanding and this year was no exception. The department had a very busy year, they awarded five degrees in the winter and spring commencement ceremonies. For SPRING BREAK the MC Chorus, under the direction of Alan Porter, gave a concert tour of France. I am sure that after this trip the chorus will never FORGET PARIS. Between their concerts the chorus went sight-seeing. One of the places they visited was the Louvre Museum. They also visited Fayetteville's sister city, Saint Avold. While they were there they took in the sights of the city. These included the American Cemetery, which is the largest outside of the U.S. The street that leads to the cemetery is named "Avenue de Fayetteville, North Carolina."

Painting Churches kicked off the 1995-1996 theatre season at Methodist College. This was a benefit in which all the proceeds went to the Methodist College Theatre Department to support the rest of the productions for the year. The play was cast and directed by the Bloodworth family. Mr. Robert Bloodworth, one of the three actors in the play, is also the communications instructor at Methodist College. Mr. Bloodworth's wife, Shannon Bailey and his daughter, DeDe Bloodworth were the other members of the cast. All three actors have acted professionally. Ms. Shannon Bailey was also the director.

A LEAGUE OF THEIR OWN

Blank Check

Consisting of Accounting and non-Accounting majors, this club invites speakers to visit the campus and share their background, experience, and expertise. The club also engages in fund raisers and Homecoming activities. The Accounting Club serves as a primary resource for those interested in the accounting profession.

Accounting Club

Higher Learning

A recent addition to the campus organizations, the African-American Club was founded by Teronda McNeill for the purpose of stimulating students' minds with an awareness of the African-American culture through cultural activities. The club enhances school spirit and morale by uniting African-American students, as well as others, by allowing students to express their views of campus life through the African-American perspective. The club also promotes the uniqueness of the African-American culture and the importance of being knowledgeable of that uniqueness.

American College of Healthcare Executives

The Doctor

The student chapter of the American College of Healthcare Executives is a new organization to Methodist. Allied with the Physician Assistant program, this group encourages students to pursue a career in the medical and health fields. Guest speakers and field trips to area clinics were planned for the fall and spring.

BBB

Outbreak

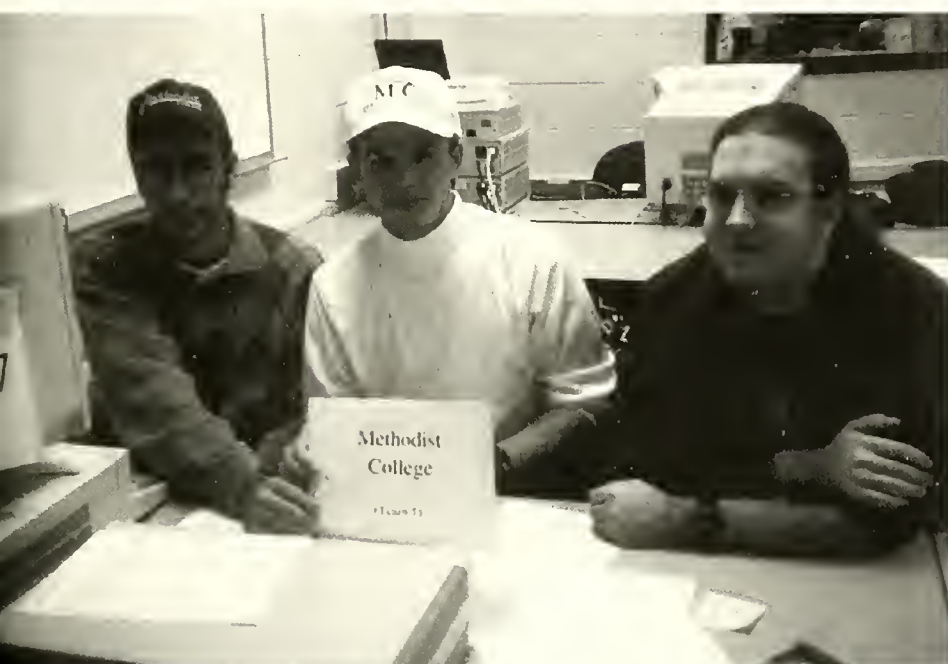

Beta Beta Beta is a national honor and professional society for students in the biological sciences. Tau Zeta is the campus chapter and was chartered in 1982. Any person interested in the biological sciences may hold associate membership, but full membership is reserved for students who have completed three biology courses with a B average. Dr. Margaret Folsom is the faculty advisor. Club members host guest speakers, participate in service projects, and take field trips.

Computer Science and Mathematics Club

Hackers

Led by Dr. Palled, this club strives to bring information to both students and faculty concerning recent technology in an informal setting. Shown at right, Viktor Miladinov, Rafal Szwejkowski, and Jason Griffin competed at the 1995 ACM Mid-Atlantic Regional Programming Contest at Virginia Tech on November 11, 1995. This team finished twenty-ninth out of seventy-four teams.

Criminal Justice Club

Murder in the First

Comprised of students majoring in the Criminal Justice, Sociology, Social Work, and Psychology fields this group is devoted to promoting professionalism and networking opportunities in the community. To that end, guest speakers from the U.S. Secret Service and N.C. Highway Patrol Office were hosted this academic year. Members also toured the FBI Headquarters, FBI Academy, and the Central Prison in Raleigh.

Monarch Playmakers

The Monarch Playmakers is the student support group for the Methodist College Theatre Department productions. Any individual interested in the theatre is welcome to join and must help by either assisting backstage, being a part of a technical crew, or performing onstage. Members are also involved in college and community volunteer projects.

OΔK

Best of the Best

Omicron Delta Kappa is a national leadership honor society open to juniors and seniors. This organization recognizes and encourages superior scholarship, leadership, and exemplary character. Applicants for membership are judged in five areas: scholarship, athletics, student government, journalism, and the creative and performing arts. However, emphasis is placed primarily upon the individual's development as a whole person, both as a member of the college community and as a contributor to a better society. The Fall induction was held November 15, 1995 in the Hensdale Chapel.

Phi Sigma Iota is a national honor society for juniors and seniors who are pursuing either a major or minor in a foreign language. The purpose of this honor society is to understand culture, heritage, and oneself. Members must maintain a minimum B average in their entire college work and in all foreign language courses, have completed at least one course at third-year level, and rank in the highest thirty-five percent of their class. Scholarships, fellowships, and grants are awarded to deserving and ambitious members to complete scholarly education programs in language, culture, and literature.

In the summer of the previous year, cadets are sent to Camp All-American on Fort Bragg for intense military training. Upon graduation, cadets are commissioned as second lieutenants in one of the many specialty areas of the Army. This group has their education and future career as a main focus.

ΣΩΧ

Poetic Justice

Sigma Omega Chi is a local honor society open to majors or minors in Sociology, Social Work, or Criminal Justice. It was established in 1984. Initiation is held annually in April. Students must have completed twelve semester hours in Sociology, Social Work, or Criminal Justice, have an overall GPA of 2.7 and a GPA in the major or minor of 3.0. Business meetings and service projects are held occasionally throughout the year.

Dead Poet's Society

Chartered on November 20, 1995, Sigma Tau Delta, the International English Honor Society became one of the newest organizations on campus. Dedicated to sincerity, truth, and design, this group recognizes outstanding scholarship in the area of English. To be eligible for membership, students must maintain a minimum of a B average in all English classes, rank in the top thirty-five percent of their class, and complete at least three semesters of college work. Associate memberships are open to faculty members holding an English degree and students pursuing a minor in English.

The founding of a Methodist College chapter is due largely to the efforts and enthusiasm of Lisa Rogers. She started the initial paperwork, presented the charter to the SGA, and with Drs. DeLapa and Christian's assistance brought the first English Honor Society to Methodist. The induction of members was held April 17, 1996.

Student Activities Council

Four Weddings and a Funeral

The Student Activities Council has the responsibility for planning and implementing all of the student entertainment and special activities (like homecoming) on campus. Any full-time enrolled student is eligible to participate in the organization. All students are encouraged to participate by suggesting activities or entertainment and assisting in making the campus a livelier place to be.

Student Council for Exceptional Children

The Miracle Worker

Dedicated to serving children with special needs, members of the S.C.E.C. make frequent trips to area schools to become more familiar with their future students. These prospective teachers also invite guest speakers on campus and hold workshops to better prepare them for their chosen profession. At left, two members manage the Halloween bake sale in the Fall of 1995. Baked goods, candy, and T-shirts are sold throughout the year to support the programs of the S.C.E.C.

Student Government Association

All the King's Men

The S.G.A. is the governing body of Methodist College students made up completely of full-time day students who are elected by the student body in the Spring semester. The association is directed by its officers and the Senate. The S.G.A. also represents the student body to the college administration and designs programs to meet student needs. Active participation in the elections, programs, and brainstorming sessions by all students is encouraged.

School Ties

Internships are recommended for college students to better their chances of finding a position upon graduation, but it is an integral part of an education degree. Prior to graduating with an elementary, middle, secondary, physical, art, or music education degree, students must fulfill a ten week internship as a student teacher. In either the fall or spring, a group of ten to twenty students leave the campus of Methodist College for their final assignment as a teacher in the county area schools. For ten weeks, student teachers progress from observing a cooperating teacher to assuming his/her full duties. Meanwhile, student teachers may have cafeteria duty, bus duty, athletic duty, detention hall, and other responsibilities depending upon what their cooperating teacher must handle. Also, student teachers meet for an hour once a week in the Alumni Dining Room to discuss successes, problems, stress, and classroom management strategies.

No other program on campus can boast of such an intense preparation of its graduates. The college professors and supervisors do their utmost to get student teachers ready for all of the challenges to be faced in the education profession. Good luck to all student teachers in their career search.

Yearbook - The Carillon Staff

The Pagemaster

Brought together by a commitment to producing a top quality publication and remembering some of the best years of our lives, the Carillon staff diligently works throughout the year to make this yearbook the best ever. Co-editors Laura Dell and Margo Jarvis, both Communications majors, used desktop publishing software to create and design the annual. These ladies also contributed photographs to the large number taken by campus photographer Richard Small. Aided by a small group of students, the Carillon slowly evolved to become what you see before you.

"THE WALL"

Methodist College students set the record for scaling "The Wall", the most difficult obstacle on the Methodist College Challenge Course, by successfully getting all twenty group members over a fifteen and a half foot wall in less than twenty minutes. Only three groups have ever attempted "The Wall" since the Challenge Course was built on the Methodist College campus in 1994. Dr. Elizabeth Belford, Assoc. Prof. of Education led her nineteen IDS 110 students by being the first over the obstacle while Dean Mike Safley supervised for safety, and class members cheered each other on as each conquered the task in their turn. The purpose of the Challenge Course is to teach teamwork, cooperation, and trust in each other.

The Fellowship

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes grew rapidly during 1995-1996. Weekly meetings were held on Tuesday evenings at 9:00, in the FCA room (a.k.a. The CAVE) in the basement of Weaver Residence Hall. Jim Peeples, assistant baseball coach, is the advisor for the MC Huddle and works closely with the chaplain and the FCA leadership team. FCA welcomes athletes and non-athletes, as well.

This year, the Methodist College FCA bids farewell to senior Sammy Hudson, whose strong Christian faith and character blessed so many. We will miss Sam's musical talents, personality, and outstanding leadership skills. However, other leaders are ready to continue the great "FCA tradition" at MC!

FCA is a nationally prominent Christian organization whose membership includes such well-known figures as Coach Tom Landry, of Dallas Cowboys' fame, Bobby Jones, former Philadelphia 76er, Herschel Walker, Dallas Cowboys running back, and Nancy Caldwell, East Tennessee State University basketball player.

AWAKENINGS

For months, baseball fans were talking about The Streak.

With each game he played, Baltimore Orioles shortstop Cal Ripken, Jr., drew one game closer to breaking one of baseball's "unbreakable" records.

In 1939, Yankee first-baseman Lou Gehrig retired after having appeared in 2,130 consecutive games, an accomplishment that surely would never be equalled.

In 1995, Ripken not only equalled it — he surpassed it!

On September 6, 1995, Ripken took the field, as he had done in every Orioles game since May 30, 1982, to play against the California Angels. This was consecutive game 2,131 — but not until the fifth inning, when baseball games become official.

When the fifth inning came, fireworks exploded and cameras flashed, as 10-foot banners bearing "2-1-3-1" were unfurled in the outfield stands of Baltimore's Camden Yards.

The fans stood and cheered for Ripken, who emerged from the dugout and gave his jersey to his wife and two children. His teammates pushed the reluctant Ripken back out onto the field where he made a "thank you" lap around the ballpark, shaking hands with the fans. The ovation lasted 22 minutes.

Befitting a hero, Ripken hit a home run in the game won by the Orioles 4-2.

A Simple Twist of Fate

It was a match between two players vying for the top position in women's tennis. On September 9, 1995, Germany's Steffi Graf emerged as #1 as she beat Monica Seles in New York to win her fourth U.S. Open title.

For Graf, it was the third consecutive Grand Slam title, coming after victories at Wimbledon and the French Open.

"Nothing can ever come close to this one. I had a lot of obstacles to climb over," said Graf, who played with a bone bruise on one foot.

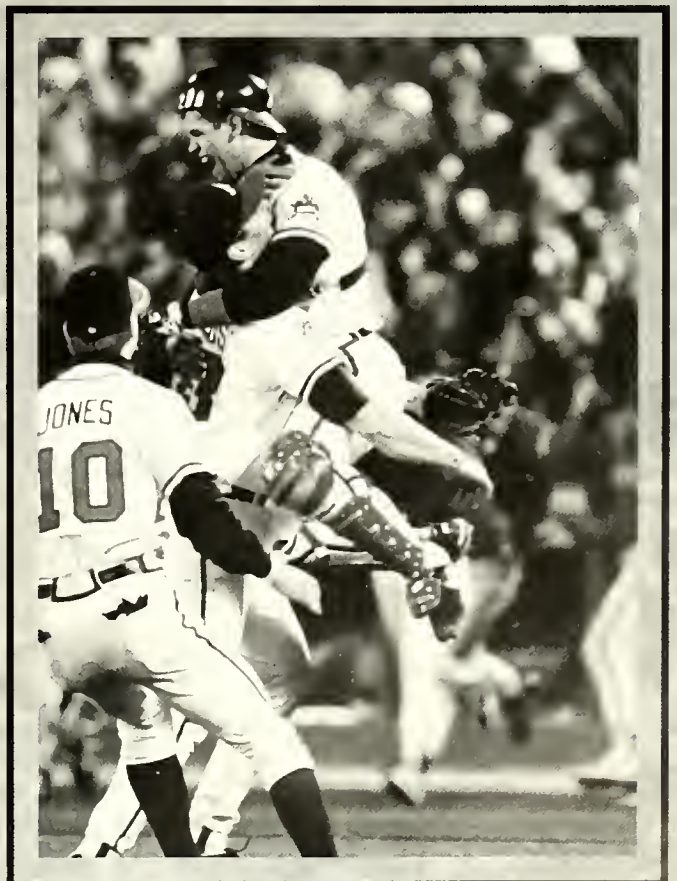

In spite of her defeat on the tennis court, Monica Seles feels like a victor of sorts. This loss was the first in a dozen matches that marked her inspired return to the sport after a two-year absence. Seles had been stabbed in the back by a deranged fan at a match in Hamburg, Germany.

The Cleveland Indians and the Atlanta Braves squared off in the first world series in two years. This was, perhaps, the first between teams with politically incorrect nicknames.

The hard-hitting Indians compiled a lofty team batting average of .291 for the season, while the Braves' pitching staff, led by Greg Maddux (19-2), was widely acknowledged to be the game's best.

It was a Series of the bats vs. the arms. And in the end, the arms were held aloft in triumph.

The Braves won the Series in six games, after taking a two-games-to-none lead in their home park. They won the Series on their return to Atlanta with a 1-0 victory marked by David Justice's home run and the one-hit pitching of Tom Glavine, who was named Series MVP.

Independence Day

"The sight you see before you...was impossible, was unthinkable, just three years ago," Israel's Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin told those present at the East Room of the White House.

The "sight" was the September 28, 1995, signing of an accord between Israel and the PLO that would end Israel's military occupation of West Bank cities and lay the foundations for a Palestinian state.

President Clinton presided over the ceremony which featured two hours of speeches and pageantry before an audience of diplomats, foreign ministers, Cabinet secretaries and members of Congress.

The agreement outlines the process for gradual withdrawal of Israeli troops and transfer of governing authority for Palestinian self-rule in 30 percent of the West Bank. It also allows for Palestinian elections and the release of 5,000 Palestinian prisoners being held by Israel.

NOTE: Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin was assassinated by a Jewish extremist in Israel on Saturday, November 4, 1995.

On August 24, 1995, human rights activist Harry Wu set foot on American soil after being imprisoned in China for 66 days.

Wu, a native of China and a naturalized U.S. citizen, had been taken into custody on June 19 while trying to enter China at a remote border crossing.

He was convicted on charges of stealing state secrets and was sentenced to 15 years in prison. However, he was released and deported within hours in an apparent attempt to improve delicate relations between the United States and China.

Wu's trip to China had been one of several clandestine treks he had made since 1991 for the purpose of researching and filming evidence of abuses in China's prison labor camps. His efforts had resulted in television documentaries that gained international attention.

It was a hero's welcome that greeted Wu as he stepped off the plane at San Francisco International Airport. Crowded around his wife, Ching-Lee, were dozens of supporters carrying "Welcome Home" signs, yellow ribbons and roses.

A few days after his return, Wu and his wife cut down the yellow ribbon that had been hanging throughout his imprisonment on the City Hall of his hometown of Milpitas, California.

On October 3, 1995, the long-running, real-life soap opera played its final episode.

In "the trial of the century," O. J. Simpson was acquitted in the June 12, 1994, stabbing murder of his former wife, Nicole Brown Simpson, and her friend, Ronald Goldman.

Americans followed the trial for more than a year, listening to testimony, digesting the evidence and speculating on whether the former football superstar and film actor was guilty.

The jury reached its verdict in less than four hours deliberation, after listening to 133 days of testimony and considering more than 800 pieces of evidence.

It was a case that would leave Americans with many lasting images:

- A white Ford Bronco leading a police chase;
- Simpson trying on "the murder gloves" in court;
- The testimony of prosecution witness Police Detective Mark Fuhrman, whose credibility was later destroyed when it was shown that he lied under oath about his use of racial epithets.

In a statement made soon after his acquittal, Simpson vowed he would dedicate his life to a search for the real killers.

This summer it seemed as though Hootie and Blowfish were playing every time you turned on the radio.

The four-man rock group that seemed to come out of nowhere and dominate the audio scene did not go unnoticed on the video scene. Hootie, featuring vocals by lead singer Darius Rucker, won an MTV award for best new artist for their video, "Hold My Hand." The presentation was made at the 12th annual MTV Video Music Awards held in September 1995 at Radio City Music Hall in New York.

Dennis Miller hosted the ceremony, which included awards to Tom Petty for best male video, "You Don't Know How It Feels," and Madonna for best female video, "Take a Bow."

TLC won video of the year for "Waterfalls," a cautionary AIDS song.

Biggest winners of the night: TLC and Weezer, each of whom had to make room on their mantels for four awards.

The Sound of Music

The leader of the Grateful Dead was gone.

Jerry Garcia, co-founder of rock music's the Grateful Dead, died of a heart attack while in a drug rehabilitation center in suburban San Francisco.

The guitarist, composer and singer passed away on August 9, 1995, just eight days after his 53rd birthday.

Deadheads, as the group's followers were known, quickly gathered to note the passing of their fallen leader. Crowds formed in public areas in San Francisco, Garcia's hometown, and in other cities to share their loss. A single red rose was tied to a tree in front of the San Francisco address where Dead began in 1964.

The Grateful Dead blended rock, bluegrass and folk flavors into their own sound. Although studio recordings by the group were rare — the most recent was released in 1989 — the Grateful Dead remained a very popular concert attraction.

Jerry Garcia had the rare distinction of having an ice cream flavor named for him — Ben & Jerry's "Cherry Garcia." The company's founders said that Garcia had inspired their business philosophy.

Against All Odds

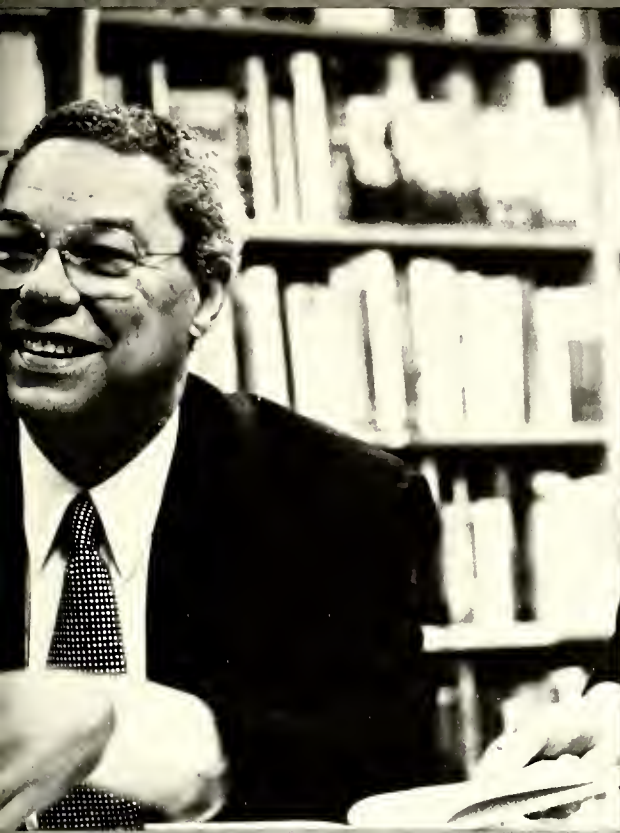

It was Hillary Clinton's first visit to China, and she made it a memorable one. In a speech to the United Nation's Fourth World Conference on Women, the first lady took on the world.

Her speech, delivered on September 5, 1995, made a call for human rights and freedom of expression, and she said that it was indefensible that many women who registered for the conference were denied visas or were unable to fully participate.

Mrs. Clinton surprised her audience and the host nation by rebuking Beijing for its treatment of private activists who said they were harassed by authorities during a parallel forum held in Huairou, China, just 30 miles away.

The conference platform called for measures to alleviate women's poverty, and improve health care, job opportunities and education.

In September, 1995, Colin Powell embarked on a cross-country book tour to promote his autobiography, "My American Journey." As he did this, he also promoted the notion that his next journey might be along the campaign trail, seeking the presidency of the United States in 1996.

Powell, 58 years old, is the former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, the first African-American person to hold that position. He rose to fame through his leadership in the Persian Gulf war.

The views expressed by Powell seem to leave him out of either mainstream Republicans or Democrats. In his book, he asserts his belief in free enterprise and lower taxes, and says that he is put off by "patronizing liberals." He does, however, support women's rights, gun control and was alarmed by a "troubling mix of politics and religion" at the 1992 Republican convention.

Powell sees himself as the "sensible center of the American political spectrum," declaring no allegiance to any political party.

The gathering in Washington, D.C. on October 16, 1996, was tremendous. Hundreds of thousands of African-American men converged on the nation's capital in response to the call from Louis Farrakhan, the Nation of Islam's leader, to rally for unity and brotherhood.

It was the fourth-largest demonstration in Washington's history, and the largest predominately African-American gathering.

There were dozens of speakers, including civil rights veterans Rosa Parks, Dick Gregory and the Reverend Jesse Jackson. Stevie Wonder sang, and Maya Angelou read a poem that urged the men to do right by themselves and "save your race."

The rally's climax was Farrakhan's speech in which he led the men in a pledge to "never raise my hand with a knife or gun to beat, cut or shoot...any human being." He urged those at the rally to join organizations, gain political control, fight racism and rid their neighborhoods of crime, drugs and violence.

Right: The news was terrible: an Amtrak train derailed while crossing a trestle in a remote desert region of Arizona, 55 miles southwest of Phoenix.

What made the news even worse was the suspicion of sabotage.

Occurring around 1:00 a.m. on October 9, 1995, the derailment of Amtrak's Sunset Limited, en route from Miami to Los Angeles, sent four of its cars into the gulch 30 feet below the trestle. One person was killed and more than 70 were injured.

The derailment was caused by the removal of a metal bar that held two sections of rail together. The culprit installed a wire, disabling a light that would have warned the train's crew about the break. The saboteur's apparent knowledge about the warning system led to speculation that it might be the work of a railroad employee.

Found at the scene was a letter that made reference to the federal sieges at Waco, Texas, and Ruby Ridge, Idaho, and also mentioned the FBI and the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms. It was signed "Sons of Gestapo."

The letter raised fears that the derailment was the work of anti-government terrorists, although experts in the field were unfamiliar with the signature.

Trials of Life: Battle to Survive

Left: On the evening of October 4, 1995, Hurricane Opal came ashore on Florida's Gulf Coast, packing sustained winds of 125 miles per hour. Before it was through, the storm had killed at least 20 people in four states and caused at least $1.8 billion in damages to insured properties, making it the third costliest storm in U.S. history.

Hurricane Opal swung east toward Florida after striking Mexico's Yucatan Peninsula.

The storm destroyed or damaged thousands of homes and businesses along a 120-mile stretch of the Florida Panhandle. Many of its residents were still recovering from and repairing damage inflicted by Hurricane Erin two months earlier.

Opal caused the sea to rise 15 feet and sweep away nearly everything on the lower floors of homes and businesses along the edge of the Gulf Coast.

Below: On April 19, 1995, a car bomb exploded in Oklahoma City, destroying the Alfred P. Murrah Federal Building and killing scores of men, women and young children.

The force of the blast tore off the building's facade and sent it flying 50 feet across the street, where it slammed into another building and came to rest in a parking lot. With the outer wall of the building suddenly gone, workers tumbled out of their offices and into the street where the blast had carved a crater 30 feet wide.

Shortly after the explosion, Timothy McVeigh, a Gulf War veteran was arrested for carrying a concealed weapon. Two days later, he was recognized as one of the bombing suspects and was charged.

McVeigh's trial is pending.

Lethal Weapon

Despite continued NATO air strikes and U.N. peace efforts, the conflict in the former Yugoslavia rages on, with no letup in sight. 1995 began with a four month cease fire mediated by former United States President Jimmy Carter, but the truce didn't put an end to the fighting.

The former Yugoslavia has been the scene of civil war since June 1991, and the fighting intensified in 1992 after the republic of Bosnia-Herzegovina declared its independence.

Bosnian Serbs, seeking independence from Bosnia, began their siege on the capital, Sarajevo, as the European community and the United States formally recognized Bosnia. More than 200,000 people have been killed or are missing since the fighting began.

In May 1995, NATO planes attacked Serb ammunition depots. The Serbs responded by attacking "safe areas," killing many and taking hundreds of U.N. peacekeepers hostage.

In June, Serbs downed a U.S. F-16 over northern Bosnia. The pilot, Air Force Captain Scott O'Grady, hid for six days until he was rescued by U.S. Marines.

The conflict and the peace talks continue.

On September 5, 1995, France resumed underground nuclear testing when it detonated a device under a remote atoll in the South Pacific.

Anti-nuclear demonstrations were staged in various parts of the world, including Paris, Tokyo, Switzerland, Australia, and Hiroshima. Two days of rioting, looting and firebombing exploded in Papeete, Tahiti, which lies about 750 miles from the test site.

France's President Jacques Chirac defended the tests, saying they would provide information allowing France to conduct computer-simulated tests in the future. Chirac also said that more tests were planned, but that France would sign a global test-ban treaty at their conclusion.

Dr. Sue Kimball, professor of English for 17 years

Eighty-three and a half years

by Bill Billings

Methodist College honored four retiring staff members at a special retirement dinner in April 1996. Dr. Elton Hendricks presented each with an engraved silver tray listing their years of service to the college.

Gene Clayton, vice president for business affairs, and Bill Morgan, former comptroller, praised Loretta Swing for her professionalism and meticulous record-keeping. "Thanks to her, we never had a bad audit," said Clayton. "And I doubt if anyone could have produced as much detailed financial information, going back 40 years, as she did for our recent bond application."

Parker Wilson, retired history professor, and Dr. Jack Peyrouse, retiring theatre professor, saluted Mrs. Earleene Bass for her positive, can-do attitude and making everyone — faculty, staff, and students — feel important and appreciated. "You can sleep well knowing you beat Bill Lowdermilk's record," quipped Wilson.

Bob Christian and Wayne Preslar, professor of English, praised their friend and colleague, Dr. Sue Kimball, for maintaining high standards of teaching and scholarship and directing 12 highly successful Southern Writers' Symposia. She was also praised for her work as grants officer and her efforts to have the Mallett-Rogers House moved to campus and restored.

Paul Wilson, associated professor of theatre and speech, praised Dr. Jack Peyrouse for serving 12 of his 18 years as a one-man theatre department. "He never lets reality get in the way of a good idea," said Wilson, "and he always thinks big." Former students Lora Lee Taylor and Lillian Lloyd thanked Dr. Peyrouse for his encouragement, the way he shared his talent, and his genuine concern for each student.

You are you and I am I,

A FEW GOOD MEN

Death is a subject that even the most hardened cynic finds difficult to face. But when death comes suddenly to those who are close to us and share our lives, the loss can be extremely hard to express. This past year, Methodist lost two valued staff members: Jesse Carter Smith and Richard Small. While their absence is sorely felt, their contributions will always be remembered.

Jesse Carter Smith, director of the Methodist College mentor program, died of cancer October 11, 1995. He was 58.

Jesse retired from the Army as a sergeant major. He had worked for Methodist since 1989 — first at the college's Fort Bragg office and later on campus.

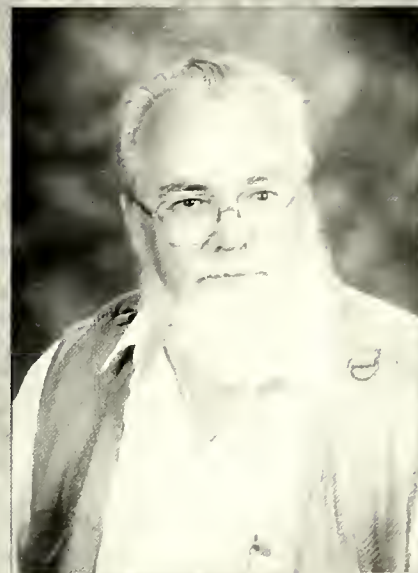

The funeral was held October 16 in Wiseman Mortuary chapel by the Reverends Michael W. Safley and Carrie W. Parrish. Burial was in Main Post Cemetery at Fort Bragg. A memorial service for Jesse was held on October 18, 1995 in Hensdale Chapel.

Richard Small, M.C.'s first full-time photographer died February 6. Richard suffered a heart attack and died just prior to a women's basketball game. He was 53 years old.

Richard joined the PR staff in September 1994. The quality of his outstanding work appeared in brochures, sports program books, MC TODAY, and the CARILLON. He took over 12,000 photos during his 18 months with us and worked 50-60 hours a week, including many nights and weekends.

Richard loved M.C. and enjoyed watching its students excel, especially in athletics. He stood in the rain more than once to get action shots at football and soccer games. When students needed to talk he listened. He dressed up as Santa Claus for members of the dance team, women's golf team, and the development staff. Richard always looked for ways to improve his photographic techniques. He was always there when you needed him.

As you browse through this year's CARILLON, remember how Richard's love of M.C. showed through his photos and how he captured so well the journey we shared this year.

THE PAGEMASTER

It has been said that a picture is worth a thousand words but it is our sincere hope that this year's collection of pictures (also known as the yearbook) will stimulate a thousand memories for you. Trying to capture and equally represent each individual's college experience can never be done justice by just a few pages; however, hopefully, the Carillon will be one important reminder of your 1995-1996 year at Methodist.

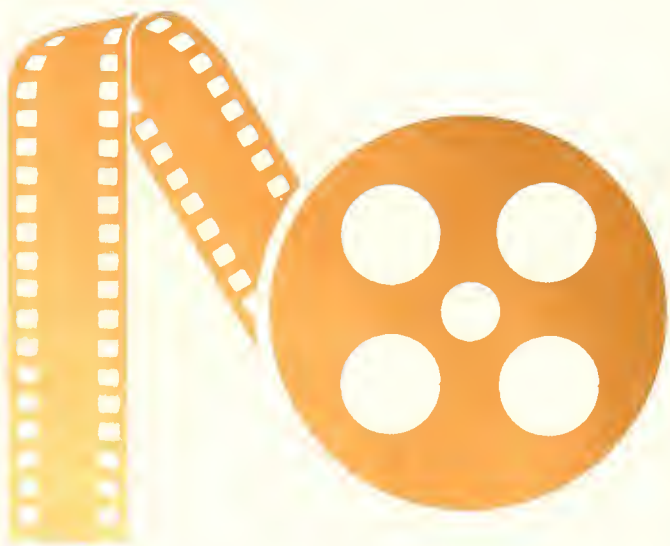

It takes many cast and crew members to make a successful production. This year's Carillon staff was outstanding and faced many difficult situations that often left the editors feeling like a can of "Mixed Nuts." The death of campus photographer, Richard Small, was sudden and shocking — we not only lost a good friend but the only source for the fantastic photos that make or break any yearbook. Without the tireless efforts of Carla Clift and Matt Eviston this book would not have been completed. Thank you, Carla for your help — it was most definitely above and beyond the norm. Matt, without your humor and expertise in your field the nights would have been a lot longer and the deadlines a lot scarier. And a special thanks to all of you who had your portraits made; we had the highest portrait turn out in the history of the Carillon.

While we recognize that each individual has a unique story to tell, collectively we each play a part in "The Greatest Story Ever Told."

— The Editors

The End

Carillon volume 33 was published by Taylor Publishing Company in Dallas, Texas. Our Taylor representative was Dave Ehinger and our customer service representative was Karen Wood. The book had a press run of 700 copies. There are 208 pages of which 16 are four color and 14 use spot color copper #79.

The cover was designed by Dave Ehinger using copper foil on black leather grain. The endsheets are stock printed with an embossed Methodist College seal. The book is printed on 70# gloss paper. Times Roman typeface is the predominant font used throughout the book.

Every photograph was electronically scanned and enhanced with the Taylor Ultra Digital printing process. This book was designed using Ultravision software on an IBM compatible 486 computer and a Canon BJ200 printer for staff proofs.
